WELCOME & CONGRATULATIONS

Reaching graduation is no small achievement. Your presence here today reflects commitment, hard work and growth. It's also a wonderfully happy occasion where you get to pause for a minute, take a deep breath and celebrate with the friends and family who have supported you along the way.

This is my first summer graduation as Principal of Edinburgh Napier University, and I'm genuinely delighted to share it with you. It's a proud moment, not only for you and your families, but also for all the staff across the University who've supported you on the way here.

By earning your award, you've achieved something meaningful. You've developed knowledge and skills that will guide you through the next chapter of your life, whether that's here in Scotland or further afield. I hope you leave us with confidence, curiosity, and a sense of pride in what you've accomplished. You're now part of a global community of Edinburgh Napier graduates who are doing remarkable things in all sorts of places – we really are everywhere.

We hope you'll keep in touch, and don't be shy about coming back to say hello or letting us know what you've been up to. Once you're part of the Edinburgh Napier community, you always are.

Warmest congratulations – and enjoy every minute of today.

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read 'Sue Rigby', with a stylized flourish at the end.

Professor Sue Rigby
Principal & Vice Chancellor

It is an honour and a privilege to present you with your awards today – ones I know you have worked so hard to achieve.

I've been leading graduations as Chancellor of Edinburgh Napier University since 2021. At each ceremony, I have been so impressed by everything I have seen – it's very different from the small institution that existed when I was a wee boy growing up in the city. There is so much going for this place, not least the terrific teaching.

In my conversations with alumni, it has been fantastic to see the vital roles Edinburgh Napier graduates are performing across society. Your predecessors are everywhere – innovating, leading, and making a difference in so many sectors. It has emphasised in my mind that the quality of your degree will stand you in good stead for making the most of the opportunities that will come your way.

My career was very much founded on my education, as a basis for continuing to learn, and I hope yours will be too. No one can predict the future, what is going to happen to the economy or to the planet, but the skills and the knowledge with which you have graduated will help you navigate life and your career with confidence.

Congratulations and best wishes for the future.

Will Whitehorn OBE
University Chancellor

Some graduands have elected to have their names omitted from the online publication of names.

As part of our Environmental Sustainability Strategy, the University is reducing its carbon footprint by moving the publication of the graduate names online.

Honorary Graduates' Book

The first Honorary Graduates' Book was presented to the University by a previous Principal & Vice Chancellor Professor Dame Joan K Stringer DBE at her Inauguration ceremony in November 2003. The Honorary Graduates' Book sits next to the Mace at all graduation ceremonies, and the signing of the book forms part of the ceremony for new Honorary Graduates and Fellows.

REGALIA

University Tartan

The Edinburgh Napier tartan was designed for the University by Kinloch Anderson, tailors and kiltmakers by Royal Appointment and based on Clan Napier tartan.

The sett has been adapted to reflect the features and colours of our Coat of Arms with red predominant against a white background.

The Edinburgh Napier tartan is registered with the Scottish Register of Tartans.

The Mace

The mace bearer leads the Chancellor's Procession. The mace was presented to the University by Sir Donald and Lady McCallum on 7 July 1989. Sir Donald McCallum was the first Honorary Graduate of Edinburgh Napier University, when he received a Doctor of Science in July 1986.

The mace was made by Christie's of Edinburgh and bears the names of the Honorary Graduates. The mace is carried at all ceremonial and formal occasions at which the Chancellor or Vice Chancellor of the University is present.

The University Motto

Without wisdom,
all is in vain.

Coat of Arms

The Coat of Arms of Edinburgh Napier University was designed by the Court of the Lord Lyon. The shield is split into three sections, each of which reflects a different part of our heritage, including our association with John Napier and the City of Edinburgh.

The first section, on the top left of the Shield, a triple towered castle, is an allusion to our location in the City of Edinburgh.

Moving in a clockwise direction, section two contains three crescent moons and celebrates our connections to Napier Merchiston.

The third section/division displays a red saltire scalloped between four red roses, an allusion to later Arms of Napier.

HONORARY GRADUATE

Professor Timothy Hodgetts CB CBE DL

Doctor of the University

Laureator: Professor
Gerri Matthews-Smith,
The Business School

Major General Professor Tim Hodgetts CB CBE retired from the Army in 2024 after 41 years of distinguished commissioned service. He served as Surgeon General of the UK Armed Forces and Chair of the Committee of Military Medical Chiefs in NATO, helping to shape military medicine across the alliance.

Tim pioneered the military specialty of emergency medicine and served on operations in Northern Ireland, Kosovo, Iraq and Afghanistan. His leadership in combat casualty care during the early 2000s significantly improved survival outcomes from serious injuries and has left a lasting legacy.

He continues to serve in public life as Master General Medical, a Deputy Lieutenant for the West Midlands, and Honorary Professor of Emergency Medicine at the University of Warwick and the Military Medical Academy in Belgrade. In 2017, he co-founded citizenAID, a charity focused on improving public resilience to injuries from terrorism and knife crime.

A published author of 37 books, Tim launched a collection of original war poetry at Edinburgh Napier University during the 2024 Fringe, with royalties supporting The Poppy Factory, where he is a Trustee. He also serves on the board of London's Air Ambulance.

His many honours include Companion of the Order of the Bath (2023), Commander of the British Empire (2009), and appointments as Honorary Physician to Queen Elizabeth II and Honorary Surgeon to King Charles III. He has also been recognised internationally by the United States and Denmark, and by the BMA as one of the UK's most innovative doctors.

James McLean
Matthews

Doctor of the University

Laureator: David Tanner,
School of Arts & Creative Industries

James Matthews is the US correspondent for Sky News, based in Washington DC.

A seasoned journalist with more than 35 years' experience, James began his career in 1987 at Metro Radio in Newcastle upon Tyne. He joined Independent Radio News in London two years later, reporting on major domestic and international stories, including the first Gulf War.

In 1992, he returned to Scotland as Chief Reporter for Scottish Television, based in his hometown of Edinburgh. He joined Sky News in 1995 as Scotland Correspondent, covering key national moments such as Scotland's journey to the 1998 World Cup and the opening of the Scottish Parliament in 1999. His final assignment in Scotland was reporting on the death of Queen Elizabeth II in 2022.

Now reporting from the United States, James has covered a diverse range of stories, from hurricanes in Florida and the decline of Death Row in California's San Quentin prison, to the environmental battles faced by Native American communities in Nevada. He was on the ground for Donald Trump's 2024 election campaign and victory, and continues to report on the highs and lows of his presidency.

Talat Yaqoob

Doctor of the University

Laureator: Dr Clare Taylor,
School of Applied Sciences

Talat Yaqoob FRSE is an award-winning campaigner, writer and consultant, known for her work on systems and policy change across issues including women's rights, migrant justice, anti-poverty, anti-racism and intersectionality.

She has a background in social research, campaign strategy, public participation, and training, with experience across further and higher education, mental health, and efforts to end violence against women. Talat was previously Director of a national organisation focused on workplace equality and continues to shape policy through consultancy and activism.

In 2014, she co-founded Women 50:50, a cross-party campaign calling for equal representation of women in politics. She is also the founder of Pass the Mic, a national initiative addressing the under-representation of women of colour in Scottish media and public life.

Talat is a regular media commentator on social and political issues, and has held a number of board and chairing roles in charities focused on equality and international development. In 2019, she was named one of Scotland's Outstanding Women by the Saltire Society, and in 2021 was appointed co-chair of the First Minister's National Advisory Council on Women and Girls.

Robyn Love
Doctor of the University

Laureator: Dr Susan Brown,
School of Applied Sciences

Robyn Love graduated from Edinburgh Napier University in 2013 with a degree in Biomedical Science. During her time as a student, she was elected Vice President for Sports and Societies, serving two influential years and playing a key role in shaping the success of Team Napier. A proud captain of the women's basketball team, Robyn's love of sport laid the foundation for her journey into elite wheelchair basketball.

Since graduating, Robyn has gone on to represent Great Britain at three Paralympic Games, establishing herself as a leading figure in the sport and an inspiration to many. She also captained Team Scotland in wheelchair basketball at the Commonwealth Games – a landmark moment in the nation's sporting history.

Robyn continues to be a powerful advocate for inclusivity in sport, both on and off the court. As she prepares to lead Team Scotland once again at the 2026 Commonwealth Games in Glasgow, her leadership, determination and commitment to breaking down barriers stand as a testament to her remarkable career and lasting impact.

Data Protection Legislation

You should be aware that the ceremonies will be filmed and photographs may be taken. A live film feed will be used to project the ceremonies on to a back screen on stage.

This may also be streamed externally on the University's website to allow remote viewing by family members or guests who cannot attend. Videos of ceremonies may also be screened at relevant University events and, at a later date, will be made available for viewing from the University's website.

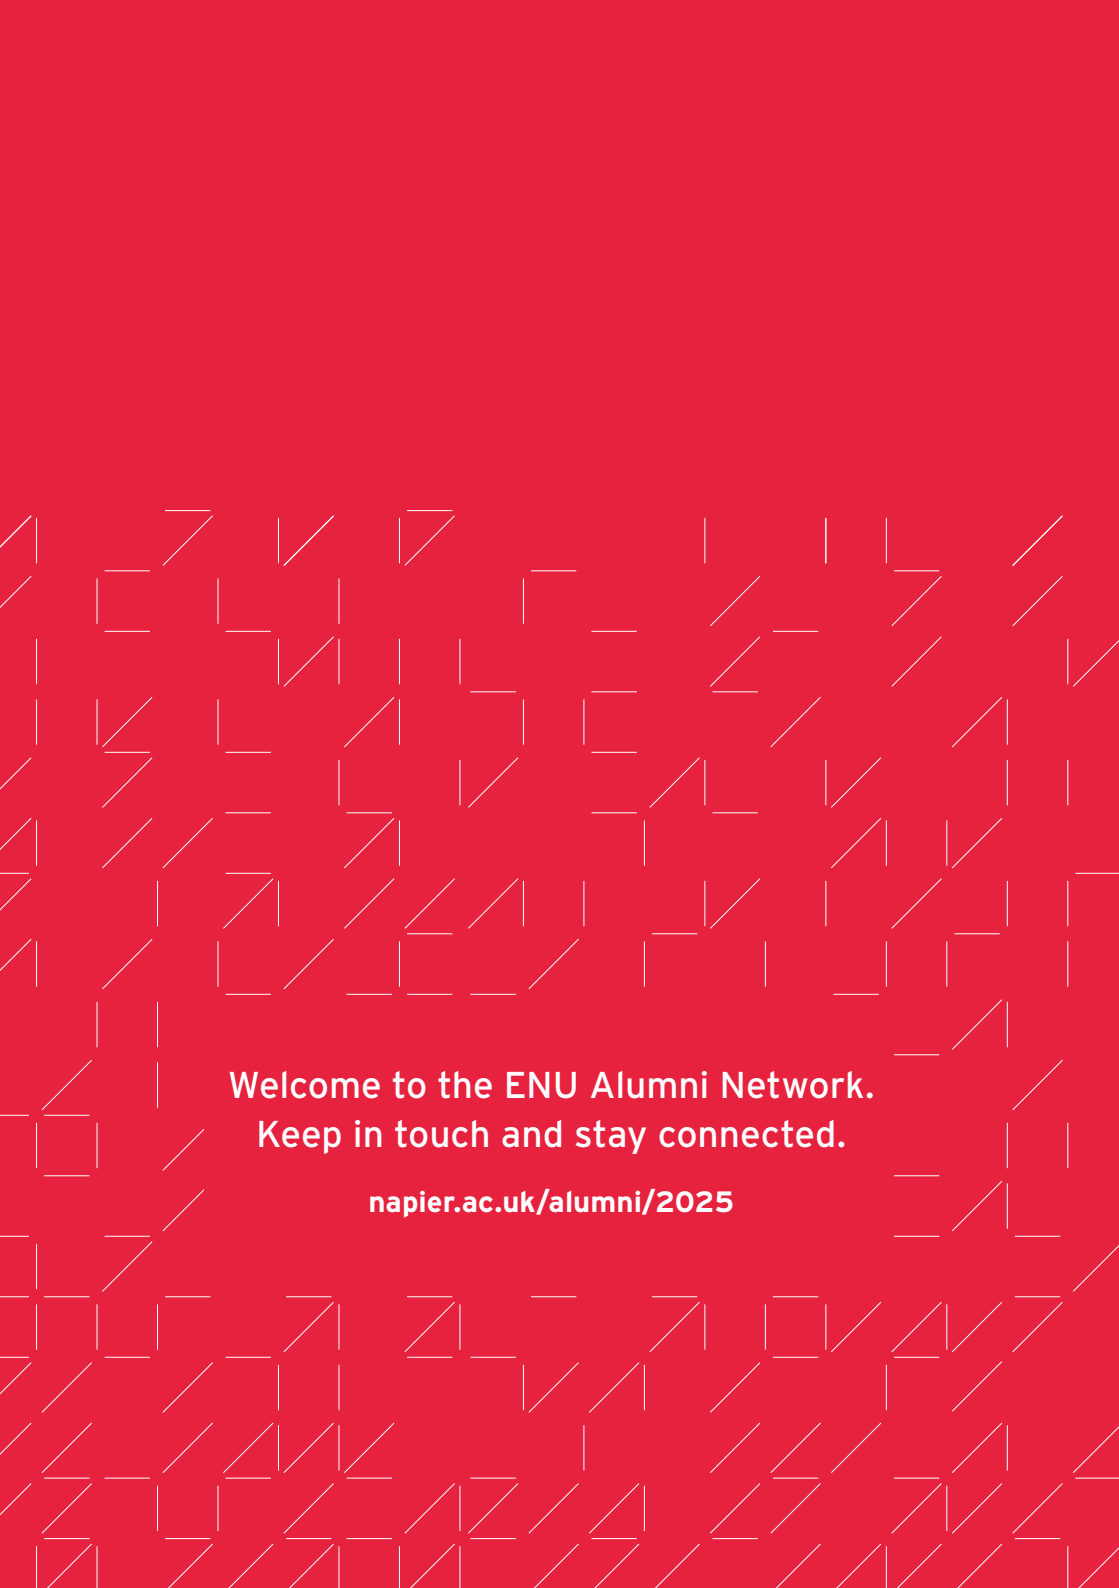

The University's full Data Protection policy for the graduation ceremonies is available at intranet.napier.ac.uk/data-graduations

The University expresses its thanks to the donors.

Please note that under Data Protection legislation some graduands have elected to have their names omitted from this publication.

Edinburgh Napier University has taken all responsible care in the preparation of this material but does not accept any liability for the consequences of any errors or omissions.
