A Single Click

Reading Lists

Welcome to the Reading List Wiki!

These wiki pages contain information, workflows, procedures, and training documentation for staff in Information Services who work with Reading Lists. Information for academic staff on how to use Reading Lists can be found on the Library Guide to Reading Lists page. This small URL for this wiki is <http://www.url.napier.ac.uk/readinglists>.

Reading Lists

The Reading List Management System is a cloud-based programme called Leganto, and is a module of Alma (our Library Management System). Information Services staff can access and work on Reading Lists from the customer-facing Leganto, or from the Library-side through Alma.

What is a wiki library?

Wikiwiki means quick in Hawaiian. A wiki library is a document library in which users can easily edit any page. The library grows organically by linking existing pages together or by creating links to new pages. If a user finds a link to an uncreated page, he or she can follow the link and create the page.

In business environments, a wiki library provides a low-maintenance way to record knowledge. Information that is usually traded in e-mail messages, gleaned from hallway conversations, or written on paper can instead be recorded in a wiki library, in context with similar knowledge.

Moodle + Library = Results

Student

“By streamlining the process it could result in more students engaging with the material rather than just lecture slides.”

Lecturer

“It’s been easy to link to journal articles as the link in the reading list, takes the students directly to the article, without multiple log-in’s which has been a common complaint previously.”
